WEDNESDAY EVE., AUG. 14, 1889.

Iowa Republicans.

The Iowa Republican convention in session to-day at DesMoines, and the proceedings promise to be exceedingly interesting. There are about 1150 delegates, and three candidates for governor. While each of the three has devoted friends it is not likely that any bid for the will be engendered by the contest.

What Lamb-Jones Will Do

Of course there will be general joy over the discovery of Dr. Brown-Sequard, but there are some things the contemplation of which bring a shudder to the nervous organization of a good many people. When we remember that, thanks to the elixir, it will become possible for the aged duchesses, who have wasted their life in the dissipations of baseness and love, the rheumatisms and gout as a consequence, to stick a hypodermic syringe under the skin, squirt a few drops of lamb-jones into his decrepit self and go on repeating his riotous living. We do not understand that Brown-Sequard's discovery is good for restoring hair that has turned gray or teeth that have dropped out, but the old man that has ruined his life away until hope long deferred has made her heart sick, can renew her youth and skip about like a frisky young girl, though her corkscrew curls and crooked teeth give her away in spite of herself. The Democratic politician who lives orderly in a former age, can absorb a few drops of the elixir under his shrivelled skin, and begin now to sing the praises of Jackson and Jefferson. The number of ceremonies was few, Pickerton, without the conclusion of the excellent entertainment, announced that refreshments were plentiful and were served by the attending knights in person so that no one was overlooked. It was with reluctance that the company dispersed, the gentlemen glad that they had been afforded an opportunity to entertain their wives and lady friends in the large room, and the ladies happy and grateful for the generous hospitality extended.

PYTHIAN CELEBRATION.

The Knights Receive Friends—Music and Speeches.

The first anniversary of the Chevalier Bayard Lodge, No. 180, Knights of Pythias, was celebrated last night in the elegantly appointed Castle Hall in Library Block, in the presence of several hundred members and friends, where the company lingered until a late hour to enjoy the cordial greeting and gallant attentions of the Knights. It was a brilliant occasion, long to be pleasantly remembered by the participants. Chevalier Bayard Lodge was instituted a year ago with 86 charter members, and during the year the lodge added 31 knights, making a total of 129 to date. It comprises many of the leading business and professional men in the city and is one of the most popular and brotherly organizations in Decatur.

The celebration arrangements were in charge of C. W. Montgomery, Elmer Oliver and J. Frank Davis; reception committee, Harry C. Hard, Giles B. Warren, William Longbourn, J. D. Templeton and L. E. Foster.

An interesting program of choice music and appropriate speeches was presented as follows:

Instrumental Duet, Miss Bertha Whiting and Mrs. Gile R. Warren "Awakening of the Lion."

Address of Welcome, Rev. T. W. Pinkerton.

Vocal Solo, Miss Lillian Kneiper "Flower Girl." In response to an encoraging "That art Like unto a Flower," Address, Rev. G. F. Gibb "Brotherhood."

Vocal Solo, Miss Nona Gatchell "Rubicon Selection."

Fractional Recitation, Rev. James Miller.

Address, Rev. Sophie Gibb "Friendship and Fraternity."

Romance, I.A. Buckingham "Exalted Character of Pythianism."

Quarrel, Miss Kneiper, Mrs. O. E. Spaulding, P. H. Hall and C. W. Montgomery "Mobs," by Mozart.

Dimensional remarks, Rev. T. W. Pinkerton.

The number of ceremonies was few, Pickerton, without the conclusion of the excellent entertainment, announced that refreshments were plentiful and were served by the attending knights in person so that no one was overlooked. It was with reluctance that the company dispersed, the gentlemen glad that they had been afforded an opportunity to entertain their wives and lady friends in the large room, and the ladies happy and grateful for the generous hospitality extended.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Shocking Death of Mrs. Louisa Devore Minor Mishap.

Mrs. Louisa J. Devore, aged 67 years, mother of Fred Devore, captain of the home-crew in Niagara, died yesterday morning, who died by the Wabash accident train at the College street crossing, shortly after 9 o'clock last night, and was buried across the street, a distance 50 feet, resulting in fatal injuries which resulted in death at 1:30 o'clock this morning. The deceased resided at 619 North College, just south of the railroad. Mrs. Devore's daughter had gone to pray meeting, and she and her little granddaughter, aged 7 years, daughter of Will (H. C.) and Anna Devore, had gone to the railroad station to meet the train of the day, and the ladies happy and grateful for the generous hospitality extended.

To-day the President will start from Bar Harbor on the way back towards Washington, taking in Manchester and Concord, to which latter place he goes on invitation of the legislature of New Hampshire.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has informed the authorities that he will be present at Indianapolis on Thursday of next week to attend the ceremonies of laying the cornerstone of a soldiers' monument, and to attend the annual reunion of his old regiment, the 70th Indiana. His stay at his old home will extend to two or three days.

The citizens of Atlanta, Ga., who have turned in loyalty the postmaster and the chairman of the Republican state central committee, because the former had appointed a negro in the registry department of the post office, do not feel better now expressing their disgust with the civil service law. Under the provisions of this law the postmaster could not have appointed any other than the colored man. He had two places left, with two applicants who had passed the civil service examination. He gave one of these places to the negro and the other to the white man. He could not have done otherwise. But the hardened ladies and gentlemen of the Georgia capital were not satisfied. Their "should" had been touched, and so they burned the postmaster in effigy, just as they used to literally burn the colored object of their wrath, when they wanted an extra bit of fun. They had a general, two or three, made out to be the southern mind that idea had a "uniting" him not as much right to ever having a white man, and to omit it by as high a grade of labor as he proven himself able to perform. It is the same old notion that a colored man who can read and write and keep accounts is still the intellectual inferior of the white man who can do neither, or what adds the South.

Assassinated.

Englewood, Ill., Aug. 14.—John H. The River, side and George, partners in Radio Island and New York, were assassinated last evening to C. D. O'Neil, Jr., Vice-president of the Bank of R. Thompson, Boston, and Charles O'Brien of New York City, confidential adviser of A. D. Julliard. All attachments on the property were at once withdrawn.

The mill will run without interruption. Last evening an attachment for $10,000 was placed on the property, and a sum of wood which had recently been taken from the mills. Prior to this, James P. Case, vice-president of the Bank of R. Thompson, Boston, and Charles O'Brien of New York City, confidential adviser of A. D. Julliard. All attachments on the property were at once withdrawn.

OTHREE.

John A. Webster will hold an inquest on the body this evening.

John A. Webster, eight weeks old, had one of his hands badly injured last night at 11 o'clock. He went to Springfield last morning.

Herbert J. Wright, of Ohio, was buried by a moving train against one of the Wabash switch stands in the yard last night and had a hole cut in his leg.

Dr. W. R. Hostetler, the Wabash surgeon, attended both cases.

Frank P. Hartman, called them hypocrites that day at his office, and severely commented on the fact that he had heard guests that they sent to refer the price-fight case to a justice of the peace. He remonstrated that they were in no rush to keep every thing secret, and one indicated for any thing that looked on to be their fault. They were under oath to make no protestation of the matters coming before them. These matters could not be transferred to a justice of the peace except by consent of the court, but they should say they were considering such a thing.

The jury then again retired.

Rough, but Righteous.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 14.—A man named Wootton, 45, of Decatur, who had a wife and four children, was recently living with another woman. Monday night he was visited by a mob at the request of his wife. They found him at the residence of his mistress. He attempted to escape, but was captured and dragged to a pilot shop. There he was stripped naked and his body painted red and green and sprained with turpentine. He was then pulled in the water and dragged through the streets, pelted with mud and stones, and nearly killed. When released he was hurried out of town by his friends.

The New York Yacht Squadron Race Corrigan Cup, Mass., Aug. 14.—The New York yacht squadron started its ninth race to New Bedford in a heavy wind, and the start was off West 20th Street. There will be a big Regatta Melodeon the thirtieth, when the crew will follow the game.

Appointment of Committees on Revision of Constitution and Other Important Matters.

The Next Convention to be Held in Tennessee on Tuesday, March 4, 1890.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The executive committee of the National Republican League held its semi-annual session yesterday in the elegantly appointed Castle Hall in Library Block, in the presence of several hundred members and friends, where the company lingered until a late hour to enjoy the cordial greeting and gallant attentions of the Knights. It was a brilliant occasion, long to be pleasantly remembered by the participants. WELL, TRY IT.

If you cannot read this print distinctly by lamp or daylight in the evening, at a distance of 10 feet, your eyes are failing, no matter what your age, and your eyes need help. Your sight can be restored to normal by wearing King's Spectacles. They cost less than ever before, and will last as long as possible. If they meet the vision, use them. There is no danger of seeing too much, for they magnify. It would be most unfair, but true, if we had your eyes tested.

THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

FIRST—

THAT Customers can always rely on our goods—place the most implicit confidence in 'em—our aim has ever been to merit an eulogium similar to the Roman proverb cited by Cicero: "You may trust him in the dark."

SECOND—

THAT No matter which way the mercury jumps people can buy from us just the same. We've got something for everybody to wear for every minute in the twenty-four hours.

THIRD—

THAT We can do nothing unnatural or impossible. We can't paint a rock so as to resemble a rock that it'll sink to the bottom if cast into a stream, but

FOURTH—

THAT We are selling all kinds of Boots, Shoes and Rubber Goods at prices which we guarantee are the lowest in this or any other city in the Union.

FIFTH—

THAT We think the above argument should convince every man, woman and child that the place to buy Boots and Shoes is from FERRISS & LAPHAM, 148 East Main Street, the Decatur branch of the big Wholesale House of L. L. Ferriss & Co., Chicago.

The town was very prettily illuminated with Japanese lanterns and beadlights, and during the evening refreshments were served on tables in the yard. Rev. Penhaligon will preach his farewell sermon in St. Peter's the first Sunday in September. In company with his wife and children, Rev. Penhaligon will take a northern pleasure trip before moving to this city. He will locate with his family at the Wilkinson Mansions on West North street.

A BEAUTIFUL PLACE.

The yard of the Decatur High School is a thing of beauty. Visitors in our city comment very highly upon the excellent manner in which the lawn is kept. Traveling men, gentlemen who have been all over the state, say that the yard of the High school is by far the handsomest school ground in the state. Great pains are taken with the flowers and grass and much credit is due to Mr. Gresham, who takes so much pleasure in looking to the beauty of the place. Robert F. Ernest, the efficient janitor, is entitled to the credit of keeping up the grounds.

PROPERTY RECOVERED.

W. A. Cochran, who lost his horse and buggy during the Prohibition camp meeting, is happy again. The horse was found the next day, and yesterday a party of hunters found the buggy hidden away among some trees in the timber northwest of the city. Everything was found in proper shape, except the old fly-net, which is missing. How the ergs away from the park fence remain a mystery to Mr. Cochran.
